

Character Log

Name:

Period:

Title of the book: _____

Character #1

Traits, Characteristics, and Important Facts (Who is this character and what is he like?) -

Memorable Quote #1 (something this character said or thought) -

Page #

What does this quote reveal about this character?

Memorable Quote #2 (something this character said or thought) -

Page #

What does this quote reveal about the character?

In what ways does this character change over the course of the story?

Character #2

Traits, Characteristics, and Important Facts (Who is this character and what is she like?) -

Memorable Quote (something this character said or thought) -

Page #

What does this quote reveal about this character?

In what ways does this character change over the course of the story?

Character #3

Traits, Characteristics, and Important Facts (Who is this character and what is he like?) -

Memorable Quote (something this character said) -

Page #

What does this quote reveal about the character?

In what ways does this character change over the course of the story?

Character #4

Traits, Characteristics, and Important Facts (Who is this character and what is he like?) -

Memorable Quote (something this character said) -

Page #

What does this quote reveal about this character?

In what ways does this character change over the course of the story?

Artful Artist

You are the Artful Artist!! Your job is to draw anything important in the story that you liked:

- a character
- a problem
- a prediction of what will happen next
- the setting
- an exciting part
- a surprise

Draw on a bigger sheet of paper or typing paper. Do any kind of drawing but make it QUALITY work.

In addition to the drawing, write a paragraph analysis of your drawing describing what all the image elements are revealing about that section of the story.

Connector

You are the Connector. Your job is to find connections between the book and the world outside. Be sure to explain the connection thoroughly in your paragraph.

Add links, images, lyrics, and anything else to help create outside connections to the story. Put these under your paragraphs.

Options to connect the reading to:

- ❖ Your own life
- ❖ Happenings at school or in the neighborhood
- ❖ Similar events at other times and places
- ❖ Other people or problems
- ❖ Other books or stories
- ❖ Other writings on the same topics
- ❖ Other writings by the same author

For example you can begin your paragraph with: My reading reminded me of ...

Passage Picker

You are the Passage Picker. Your job is to pick 5 quotations through the course of the story that you think are important or valuable to the novel.

Copy down the quotation, and explain its value either in the plot, character, or theme development of the story.

Summarizer

You are the Summarizer. Your job is to prepare a brief summary of three chapters in the reading. Give a thorough, detailed, and objective (no opinions) summary that conveys the gist--the key points, the main highlights, and the essence--of your reading assignment.