| Use data to make decisions. | Utilize CTLS to assess, develop, deliver, and analyze common formative assessments in all core content areas. | 1. Use CTLS to create common formative and summative assessments within collaborative teams.
2. Use CTLS to create diagnostic tests, pre-tests, and post unit assessments.
3. Increase use of CTLS to develop, deliver, and analyze common assessments.
4. Utilize CTLS to promote concepts students encounter on the PSAT, SAT, and ACT. | Use reports in CTLS ASSESS, generated by teacher or subject | Our Algebra I and Geometry collaborative teams utilized common diagnostic tests given through CTLS at the beginning of the semester and two weeks before the scheduled EOC. At-risk students were then identified and remediated in after school help sessions. |
|                             | Deliver, analyze, and adjust instruction in reading and math, utilizing data from Universal Screener (RI and MI). | 1. Analyze RI and MI data within collaborative teams to identify remedial learners.
2. Examine RI and MI data within collaborative teams to adjust and guide instruction.
3. Utilize RI and MI data to identify students who need extra support and scaffolding for Hoya Block placement.
4. Utilize RI and MI data to identify students who need extra preparation for high stakes testing. | Use RI and MI data | 100% of our 9th graders, and at-risk upperclassmen, participated in the administration of the SRI/SMI. Students who scored below proficiency were invited to attend extended learning sessions in the area of deficiency. |
|                             | Increase percentage of students performing at grade level in reading and math. | 1. Monitor RI and MI scores in order to identify at-risk students for Hoya Block placement.
2. Use RI and MI scores in order to identify at-risk students for proper course placement.
3. Analyze RI and MI scores in order to encourage students to attend extended learning math and writing sessions. | Use CCRPI data | 100% of our 9th graders, and at-risk upperclassmen, participated in the administration of the SRI/SMI. Students who scored below proficiency were targeted for intervention through our Hoya Block program. |
